Picket Lines in 10 Cities in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Members of the Communications Workers of America walked picket lines in 10 Arkansas cities today as the strike against the Western Electric Co., continued.

A spokesman for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., Western Electric's parent firm, said pickets were seen for the first time at El Dorado Saturday.

They also were walking in Little Rock, Conway, Fort Smith, Fayetteville, Hot Springs, Camden, Pine Bluff, Forrest City, Jonesboro and El Dorado, he said.

There are about 200 members of the union in Arkansas, but about 750 members of other unions are honoring the picket lines.

Boat Tips and Child Drowned

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Taxi driver John Shaw took his wife and son sailing in his 10-foot boat Sunday, the first voyage of the tiny craft since the child, Gerald, was born four years ago.

While lacking 200 feet offshore, the small vessel swamped and capsized. There were no life preservers, Shaw said his wife passed Gerald between them but the child drowned before help came.

Discrepancies in the King Slaying Probe Admitted by Officer

By DOUG STONE
Associated Press Writer
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A ranking Memphis police officer acknowledges there are "a whole lot of discrepancies" in official descriptions of the man sought as the sniper slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Asst. Chief Bill Price referred to statements that James Earl Ray, 40, an escaped Missouri convict, and Eric Starvo Galt, first sought for King's April 4 assassination in Memphis, are the same person.

"You don't know what to look for," Price said Sunday as officers here and elsewhere continued their investigation of the slaying. The nationwide manhunt continues.

The FBI issued a conspiracy warrant Wednesday for Galt, then updated their case Friday by saying a fingerprint comparison showed Galt was really Ray.

The naming of Ray in the case caused confusion, primarily because earlier official statements indicate that Galt and Ray were in different places at the same time.

When Galt was charged as a conspirator in King's death by rifle bullet, the FBI said the man had taken dancing lessons in New Orleans in 1934-35. The FBI said later the earlier description should have said Galt reportedly took dancing lessons rather than stating it flatly.

During that time, Ray was in the Missouri State Prison at Jefferson City, serving a 20-year sentence for a 1959 supermarket robbery.

The age of the man also was in conflict.

Witnesses who saw a man in a Memphis rooming house from where the fatal bullet was fired estimated his age as in the late 20s. The FBI, in issuing its warrant for Galt, said he had given his birthdate July 20, 1931. That would make him 33. The FBI said Friday Ray is 40.

The personalities of the two men are sometimes at odds. A prison pal described Ray as virtually a nondrinker. The FBI describes Galt as a fancier of beer and vodka.

There were other differences: Galt: neat appearance. Ray: careless appearance.

Galt: Southern accent. Ray: born in Alton, Ill. No Southern accent.

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark, who came to Memphis after King was slain, at first ruled out a conspiracy, but then the FBI issued its warrant for Galt on a conspiracy charge.

Bennett to Tell Plans Tuesday

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett is expected to announce Tuesday that he will be a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Bennett said Sunday that he was calling a news conference for 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Marriott Hotel here.

Bennett also denied an Associated Press report which quoted an unidentified source as saying the former attorney general had been promised $50,000 in campaign funds by former Louisiana Gov. James Noe, plus help in raising an additional $50,000.

"I wish it were true, but it's just a figment of somebody's imagination," Bennett said. "Gov. Noe and myself have been friends for many years, and I have the utmost respect and honor for him, but that's as far as it goes."

"Should I make the race for governor of Arkansas, it will be the same as in the past — on small donations from hundreds of well-wishers."

Upholds Ban of Sexy Magazines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the power of states to keep sexy magazines from children.

At the same time, however, the court struck down a Dallas scheme to shield children from violent or sexy movies, on a finding that the particular scheme was unconstitutionally vague.

The two rulings provided the first test of laws that serve to control what children — but not adults — may see and read.

The ruling on magazines involved a 1965 New York state law, the movie case a 1965 city ordinance.

Marvin E. Pollock of New York City, attorney for the two school boards, said in a brief filed earlier with the court that "New York is using its taxing power to support religious institutions" and thus violating the First Amendment.

Countered Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz of New York: "The provision of textbooks to all children, enrolled in grades 7 through 12, without regard to the nature of the school attended, does not constitute an establishment or aid to religion, but rather an aid and benefit to the child receiving the textbooks."

Justice T. Paul Kane of the New York Supreme Court, in declaring the law unconstitutional in August 1966, said the First Amendment ban applied on grounds that since pupils are part of a school, aid given to pupils is aid given to schools.

Kane was overruled in January 1967 by the appellate division. And the state law was further upheld in June by a 4-3 vote of the Court of Appeals, the highest court in New York.

Reports Only Faubus Can Beat WR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller is in political trouble, but former Gov. Orval Faubus is the only Democrat likely to beat him in the general election, according to a poll financed by 12 prominent Democrats.

One of the 12 told The Associated Press that the poll, conducted by an out-of-state firm, also indicated that no member of Arkansas' congressional delegation would face serious re-election problems, and that former Vice President Richard M. Nixon was the leading presidential contender in the state.

The Democrat, who asked to remain unidentified, said Faubus was shown the poll last Tuesday, just before he returned to his "western hideaway," but expressed no interest in running.

The Democrat said Frank Whitbeck and state Rep. Marion Crank, the only announced candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, ran "neck and neck" against Rockefeller, but trailed the governor by four percentage points.

Spends 61 Days in Coffin Underground

LONDON (AP) — Mike Meaney rose into a sunny London today after 61 days underground in a coffin and smiled at a barmaid: "Do you have a pint of bitter beer, darlin'?"

The 33-year-old Irish bartender had been at the bottom of an eight foot deep grave since Feb. 21.

He was ahen and unable to stand. But he told a doctor: "I feel wonderful."

Meaney claims the world underground record from Bill White of Austin, Tex., who spent 55 days underground.

$700,000 in Diamonds Missing

WINDHOEK, South-West Africa (AP) — A $700,000 shipment of diamonds was missing today in the wreckage of a South African jetliner that crashed Saturday night, killing 122 persons.

Six persons survived the crash, including American diplomatic courier Thomas Taylor. The U.S. diplomatic pouches he took aboard in Johannesburg, South Africa, were recovered from the wreckage Sunday.

South African Airways' newest Boeing 707 had just taken off from Windhoek, first of four stops on a flight from Johannesburg to London, when it began to wobble and plummeted out of sight. Watchers at the airport heard a crash and saw flames spurt into the sky.

Rescuers said they found Taylor beside the wreckage and he told them: "Don't worry about me. See to the others." Taylor, 36, of Tahlequah, Okla., was reported in good condition.

Two Persons Killed in Accidents

Two persons died in traffic accidents on Arkansas highways during the 54-hour week-end period ending at midnight Sunday.

State Police identified the victims as James Robert Raper, 17, of Riverside, Calif., and George Wellington, 37, of Kirbyville, Tex.

Officers said Raper was killed early Saturday morning when his car struck a concrete divider. Authorities said the accident occurred at Norfolk Dam on Arkansas 177.

Wellington was killed Saturday in a one-car accident in the Camden city limits. Officers said Wellington apparently lost control of the car in a curve and was thrown from the vehicle.

America's Biggest Church Merger

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Final steps were being taken today for America's biggest church merger amid tensions underscored by a walkout of some Negro Methodists from a vast, solemn service of Holy Communion.

They staged the action to dramatize their charge that racism remains in plans for the new denomination—the United Methodist Church.

To be formally inaugurated Tuesday, it will join the 10.3-million-member Methodist Church and the 746,099-member Evangelical United Brethren Church into a single body.

"In sorrow we perceive a United Methodist Church still divided by the infamy of segregation and discrimination," said a statement by the protesting group, Black Methodists for Church Renewal.

Their walkout occurred in a hushed interlude of a mass celebration of the Lord's Supper Sunday night in the Dallas Memorial Auditorium.

Love Triangle Threatens Show

BROOKFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A love triangle is threatening the water show at Brookfield Zoo, but help is on the way.

Robby and Sally—two male porpoises—made advances to Vicki, the female member of the show. And the porpoise beauty quickly chose Sally.

Robby soon became the "recipient of quite a bullying" from the two lovers who wanted privacy, a zoo official said.

So far, the triangle hasn't interfered with the show, said Peter Crowcroft, zoo director. "But when the show is over, it's like they want him out of the way."

Crowcroft has sent for some competition to Vicki in the way of Angie, a female fatale porpoise from Florida. Angie is intended for Robby.

WHAT A WAY TO LIVE!

Dear Helen: For about 20 of the 24 years of our married lives my wife and I have only spoken to each other when absolutely necessary. It's the best way to avoid battles. She gives me notes, for groceries, etc., or else we relay our messages through our daughters.

While our three kids were growing up, she kept them to herself, and away from me, so that I scarcely knew them. Not wanted at home, I started staying out more and more, though I never ran around. I was just alone, or with married friends who had a real family life.

I would come home to a locked bedroom door, with my wife's snarling watchdog in front of it. No need for a lock, he'd bite me if I tried to enter.

After our son turned 20, he and I became good friends, and this turned my wife even more against me. I feel worse for our two teenage daughters. They never bring friends in. To avoid war, they side with their mother, and I say nothing. I believe she only tolerated me so that she could have children.

My wife deserves credit for raising the children clean, keeping a neat house and serving adequate meals, though I am not welcome at the table—I eat in the den, where I also sleep.

Outwardly there's a certain smoothness of our lives. Inwardly, I'm dying. Now that my son is married and away, I have nothing left but my work. Is there any hope? — RECLUSE AGAINST MY WILL

Dear Recluse:

Yes there's hope -- if you and your wife will stop with the polite stranger routine and put out your resentments to a counselor.

I've an idea a letter from her would paint an entirely different picture -- and you both would be half right, half wrong.

Look up the Family Service Agency in your phone book and put in a call today. -- H.

P.S. Better consult a vet about your wife's dog. He could stand some psychoanalyzing too.

To advise divorce on the strength of one letter would take stupidity, not guts. Perhaps the marriage can't be saved, but I'm not the one to say so. I don't know all the facts, mam. -- H. P.S. .... But sometimes I can't help being stupid. When women write about habitual wife-beaters or chasers, I'm liable to say, "Leave 'em!" -- H.

Dear Helen:

That lawyer from New Mexico, said a run-of-the-mill divorce cost around $200. Too bad I don't live in New Mexico. Mine cost me $750, and there were no children, no property settlement. I had to pay all the fees, since my husband didn't want a divorce. However, he beat me when he was drunk, had a mistress three months after we were married, and threatened me with a knife. I've never regretted leaving him but that's a high price to pay for a mistake that also cost me a year of pure hell. -- SING LE AGAIN AT 22

Happy is the home that now has a pink or white dogwood tree blooming in the yard. Legend has it that the ancient Greeks chopped down a grove of these trees around a shrine to Apollo on Mt. Another legend holds that Jesus was crucified on a dogwood cross and, in pity for the sorrowing tree, assured it that never again would it grow large enough to serve such an evil use.

Americans Dominate Tony Awards

NEW YORK (AP) — An Australian actress and a British author took two of Broadway's top three Tony awards for drama Sunday night, but the musical honors were almost all American.

Zoe Caldwell, who won a Tony in 1966 as the best supporting actress, was named best dramatic actress of the 1967-68 season for her role in "The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie" and Tom Stoppard won the drama trophy for "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead."

The best actor award went to Martin Balsam for his role in "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running." "Hallelujah Baby!" which chronicles half a century of Negro history and which closed three months ago, was named the best musical play and its star, Leslie Uggams, shared the award for best actress in a musical with Patricia Routledge of Britain. Miss Routledge was honored for her role in "Darling of the Day," which also is no longer playing. Robert Goulet was named best actor in a musical for his role in "The Happy Time."

Director's honors went to Mike Nichols for the dramatic play, "Plaza Suite," and Gower Champion for the musical "Happy Time." Champion also was named best choreographer, picking up his sixth and seventh Tony Awards.

As each award was presented in the Shubert Theater, the winners crossed a spotlighted, closed-off street to Sardi's restaurant to pose for pictures and congratulate each other.

The awards, which were nationally televised by NBC, are named for the late Antonette Perry, one of the founders of the American Theater Wing which originated the honors 22 years ago.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — There's no doubt about it—the Broadway theater has about it an electricity and glamor that somehow motion pictures can't touch. It was evident Sunday in the Tony award presentations on NBC.

This year, the second time the award show has been on network television, the program was expanded into a star- and entertainment-packed hour and three quarters. There were awards for writing, acting, music, choreography and a number of special awards. But the big items of the evening were the production of scenes from a series of hit musicals.

It started with an elaborate production number from "Golden Rainbow," and moved on to a number from "The Happy Time." There were short numbers from past Tony-winning shows which are still running, "Fiddler on the Roof," "Cabaret" and "Man of La Mancha."

It was a night when the producers really had to take refuge in the alphabet in handling the names of the participants. They ranged from Ann Bancroft to Joanne Woodward, but in between there came the names of just about every important star of the current Broadway stage.

Maurice Chevalier, on the eve of his 80th birthday, received a special award from Audrey Hepburn, and the theater audience showed its affection for the man who has been entertaining the world for 68 years.

Jack Benny wandered in and out making stinging jokes. Angela Lansbury and Peter Ustinov as far as the theater audience was concerned.

The envelop-opening and thank-you business, which has become such a drag in the movie and TV award shows, was kept down to a brisk minimum.

Most of the program was live, and involved all sorts of complex scene shifting on the theaters' normal-sized stage, and it came off smoothly and with excitement.

Pirates Give McBean Plenty Runs

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
This is the tale of two pitchers and their adventures with that tricky intangible called Pirate Power.

Pittsburgh's Al McBean swears by the potent hitting of the Pirates which has helped him to a 3-0 record this season. Teammate Bob Veale isn't sure players use the same bats when he's pitching.

McBean got 10 more runs with which to occupy himself Sunday and shut out San Francisco 10-0. That's 25 runs in 27 innings that the Pirates have given McBean to work with this season — a mere 2 more than Veale, 0-2, has had.

The Pirates got 13 runs for McBean in his last start and went to work early for him Sunday, scoring seven times in the fourth inning. Meanwhile Veale, shut out 1-0 by the Giants Saturday and recipient of three runs in 27 2-3 innings this season, watched enviously.

In other National League games, Philadelphia pounded Houston 8-0, Atlanta whipped Cincinnati 5-2, St. Louis battered Chicago 9-2 and Los Angeles swept a doubleheader from New York 7-6 and 3-2.

In the American League, Minnesota topped New York 5-2, Baltimore walloped California 11-4, Washington blanked Oakland 2-0, Cleveland shut out Boston 7-0 and Detroit swept a doubleheader from winless Chicago 4-1 and 4-2.

The shutout lowered McBean's earned run average to 1.67 — four hundredths of a point higher than Veale's figure. Each pitcher has allowed five runs in three games.

Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell tagged consecutive homers in Pittsburgh's big fourth inning and McBean just coasted.

Atlanta's Aaron brothers—Hank and Tommie — wrecked Cincinnati. Hank smacked three hits including his fourth home run and drove in two runs and Tommie drove in three runs with a pair of singles.

Dick Kelley earned his first career victory over the Reds with late-inning help from Claude Raymond.

Nelson Briles won his 13th straight game — 10 including one in the World Series last year and three this season — as the Cards ripped the Cubs. Ken Holtzman, who won nine straight without a setback last year, took the loss.

Claudio Cepeda smacked a two-run homer, Julian Javier had three hits and Tim Lincecum drove in three runs to lead the St. Louis attack.

Woody Fryman hurled a two-hitter and Rich Allen drove in four runs with three hits as the Phillies walloped Houston.

Allen led a 10-hit Philadelphia attack with a single, double and home run while Fryman throttled the Astros and won his second game.

Ron Swoboda tagged home runs in both games and took the major league lead with five but couldn't prevent the Mets from losing a pair to the Dodgers.

Zolito Versalles drove in four runs with a double and triple as Los Angeles rushed six runs across in the last two innings to take the opener. The Dodgers completed the sweep with a tight relief from Phil Regan and John Billingham in the nightcap.

Regan got credit for both victories.

IOC Wants South Africa to Bow Out

By GEOFFREY ATKINS
Associated Press Sports Writer
L.A. U.S.A. N.E. Switzerland (AP) — South Africa, whose readmission to the Olympic Games touched off a worldwide controversy, today is on the verge of exclusion from the Summer Games in Mexico City.

The executive board of the International Olympic Committee, meeting in an emergency session, bowed to enormous pressures Sunday and recommended that South Africa be banned from the Games.

The unanimous recommendation of the nine-man board, announced by a sorrowful Avery Brundage, went to the 71 members of the IOC for their action in a postal vote. It is almost certain that the full IOC will approve the board's recommendation.

Brundage, 80-year-old American president of the IOC, said that if a minimum of 36 members reject the recommendation then South Africa still could be invited to participate in Mexico next October.

But IOC officials said this is highly unlikely. They said that since the executive board was unanimous in "strongly recommending" members not to invite South Africa, it virtually banned South Africa from the Games.

But they conceded that, technically, it is remotely possible that a majority could reject the recommendation.

Brundage strongly indicated that the board's decision was very much influenced by racial riots in the United States following the assassination of civil rights leader Dr. Martin Luther King.

Brundage said the meeting took into account "the violent disorders of the past 60 days throughout the world."

But this seemed a loophole through which the IOC was able to preserve the unity of the Olympic movement—and save the Mexico Games.

There seemed little doubt that the IOC's hand was forced by the threat of a large-scale boycott by some 40 nations, including the Soviet Union, if South Africa were allowed to compete.

South Africa, which has a national racial policy of apartheid, was banned from the 1964 games in Tokyo. But when South Africa promised to field an integrated team in Mexico City, a postal vote was taken on the question of readmission.

It was announced in Grenoble, France, in February, that a majority favored readmission.

Black African nations protested immediately on the grounds that while South Africa's team may be integrated, segregation still exists in South Africa as a national policy.

The list of nations threatening to boycott the Mexico Games grew to more than 40, including Russia. Mexican officials, fearing the destruction of the games and the loss of millions of dollars, became greatly concerned and exerted pressure to have South Africa banned.

As the boycott threat grew stronger the IOC called the emergency session during the weekend, culminating in a non-stop 10-hour session of the executive board Sunday.

East Division finals between the Montreal Canadiens and the Black Hawks will be held in Chicago Tuesday and Thursday. The Canadiens' 4-1 victory last Saturday night at Montreal gave them a 2-0 edge.

Pearson Is Winner of NASCAR Race

NORTH WILKESBORO, N.C. (AP) — "I'm happy to get the money, but I'd rather have won it flat out, racing him," said Ford driver David Pearson Sunday after the 250-mile stock car race at North Wilkesboro.

Pearson, the 1966 NASCAR Grand National champion, had just won the $5,100 top prize money after taking over the lead with nine laps to go when Lee Roy Yarborough's Ford blew an engine and hit a guard rail.

Yarborough, seeking his first victory of the season, had been running easily in the lead about 10 seconds ahead of Pearson and appeared certain of victory when he passed the starter's flag stand and was given the 10-laps-to-go signal.

But seconds later, in the first turn, Yarborough's engine blew and the sudden loss of power carried him into the high guard rail. He escaped injury.

Orioles Lose Robinson

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles have lost the services of slugger Frank Robinson, who has been sidelined indefinitely with an attack of the mumps.

The 32-year-old outfielder was left at St. Joseph's Hospital in Anaheim, Calif., when the Orioles departed the West Coast Sunday night.

Celtics in Victory Over Lakers

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Pro basketball's collection of old folks, better known as the Boston Celtics, may be tired in the waning days of a long season, but they're acting like a bunch of sprightly kids.

With a starting lineup averaging more than 33 years old, and the two top reserves averaging nearly 30, the Celtics rallied from a 15-point second half deficit for a 107-101 victory over the Los Angeles Lakers Sunday.

"We discussed our defense at halftime," Boston player-coach Bill Russell said after leading the Celtics to a 1-0 advantage in the best-of-7 series for the National Basketball Association championship.

"It wasn't a very friendly conversation," Russell added with a smile. "I spoke to myself about it, too. I played lousy in the first half."

Russell, a 12-year NBA veteran at the age of 34, was the only player on either side to play all 48 minutes. He scored 12 of his 19 points and grabbed 16 of his 23 rebounds in the second half.

The Celtics, seeking to regain the championship they surrendered to Philadelphia after an eight-year reign last season, figured to be tired after winding up a rugged seven-game series with the 76ers Friday night. The Lakers were healthy and rested after completing a four-game sweep against San Francisco April 13.

The Celtics jumped out to a 20-9 lead, but suddenly went cold. The Lakers closed to within 29-28 at the end of the first period and then stormed to a 61-48 halftime advantage.

The Lakers padded their lead to 78-63 in the first five minutes of the third period before the Celtics exploded in one of their patented furious rallies. Boston clicked for 11 straight points and trailed 85-81 at the end of the quarter.

Russell converted a rebound to tie the score 90-90 before the final was four minutes old. Finally, Sam Jones put Boston in front to stay, 97-95, with a jump shot.

The second game of the series is scheduled for Boston Garden Wednesday night. The two teams then will play Friday and Sunday in Los Angeles. Other games, if necessary, will be in Boston April 30, at Los Angeles May 2 and in Boston May 4.

The American Basketball Association final playoff series between Pittsburgh and New Orleans, tied at 1-1, also resumes Wednesday, in New Orleans.

The fourth game will be played at New Orleans Thursday and the fifth in Pittsburgh Saturday. Other games, if necessary, will be in New Orleans May 1 and at Pittsburgh May 4.

Ward Proves That He's a Real Pro

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Pete Ward's father was a professional hockey player. He played for Montreal. Pete Ward is a professional baseball player. He plays for the Chicago White Sox.

He proved he's a pro Sunday despite the fact the White Sox, off to a horrendous start with nine straight defeats, lost a doubleheader to Detroit 4-1 and 4-2.

Misplays by Ward at third base led to unearned runs in both games and the boo birds went to work on the Sox slugger who has committed six errors this season at third.

Ward's error led to four unearned runs in the second inning of the first game. The fans jeered his every move although he knocked in Chicago's only run with a fifth-inning homer.

Another error in the fifth inning of the second game helped the Tigers score two more runs and put the game out of reach. Instead of completely failing apart, Ward singled and then hit a two-run homer in the ninth inning to provide all of Chicago's runs for the day.

"We just have to break out with some hits and win one soon," said Ward after the game. "Every mistake we make now hits us in the face and, unfortunately, the mistakes have been mine."

"Nobody likes to hear boos," he continued. "But you can't really blame the fans. They come out to see big league baseball and we should give them big league baseball."

Manager Eddie Stanky, surprisingly calm as the losing streak continued, looked over at Ward and said, "You have to admire that man."

Travs Lose and Get a Rest Sunday

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — The Arkansas Travelers, who battled through a long doubleheader Friday night at home and then dropped a 7-2 decision on the road Saturday, got a rest Sunday.

The Travelers' Texas League contest with the Shreveport Braves was postponed because of rain.

The Travelers and Braves will try again tonight and then Arkansas is scheduled for a four-game series with Dallas-Fort Worth at Arlington, Tex.

A doubleheader between Albuquerque and San Antonio was also rained out.

Memphis made the most of two hits and four Dallas-Fort Worth errors and defeated the Spurs 3-1 at Arlington. Amarillo pounded out 12 hits and defeated El Paso 6-3 for its fourth straight victory in other Texas League action.

Arkansas Pro Gridders Schedule 14

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Officials of the Arkansas Diamonds, Arkansas' entry in the Continental Football League, announced Sunday that the team would play 14 games this year, including 12 league games.

The Diamonds are a member of the CFL's Atlantic Division. Tentative plans call for the Diamonds to open at Little Rock Aug. 24 with an exhibition against Omaha of the CFL's Central Division.

The Diamonds will play Oklahoma City, Huntsville, Ala., and Orlando, Fla., home and away during the regular season and will meet Norfolk and Wheeling, W.Va., once each in other division games. The remainder of the Diamonds' scheduled will be against teams in the Central and Pacific divisions of the CFL.

Crossett's Hankton Rated Tops

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A panel of Arkansas sportswriters have selected Crossett's Terry Hankton as the state's top amateur athlete in March.

Hankton, who led his team to the Class AA high school basketball championship, was named the outstanding player in the tournament. He averaged 21.8 points in the four tournament games and scored 28 points in the final game.

Phillip Herndon, Little Rock Central High School hurdler, was second in the voting followed by sprinter Henry Basey of Little Rock Horace Mann and State College of Arkansas trackman David Johnston.

Mike Maxwell of Arkansas A&M and Carl Lowe of North Little Rock, both sprinters, received votes along with Jess White of Harding College, a high jumper.

Tigers Run Win Streak to Nine

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Mayo Smith learned how to take his winning and losing streaks in stride 13 years ago. Eddie Stanky is still learning . . . the hard way.

Smith's torrid Detroit Tigers ran their winning string to nine games Sunday with a 4-1, 4-2 doubleheader sweep over Stanky's frigid Chicago White Sox, who are still looking for their first 1968 victory after nine straight setbacks.

Streaks are nothing new to Smith. He managed the 1955 Philadelphia Phillies, who broke a 13-game losing skid by reeling off 11 victories in succession.

Stanky, however, has never before been on the short end of a long count. "Not unless you want to count last year, when we finished with a five-game losing streak," said the White Sox skipper.

Elsewhere in the American League, Minnesota downed the New York Yankees 5-2, Baltimore slugged California 11-4, Cleveland whipped Boston 7-0 and Washington downed Oakland 2-0.

Los Angeles swept a twin bill from the New York Mets 7-6 and 3-2. St. Louis trimmed the Chicago Cubs 9-2, Pittsburgh trounced San Francisco 10-0, Philadelphia belted Houston 8-0 and Atlanta beat Cincinnati 5-2 in National League action.

Right-handers Earl Wilson and Denny McLain breezed to complete game victories for the Tigers, who lost their season opener before streaking to the top of the American League standings. Wilson pitched a five-hitter in the opener and McLain scattered seven hits in the second game.

Pete Ward accounted for all of the White Sox' runs with a bases-empty homer in the first game and a two-run ninth inning blast in the nightcap. The Chicago third baseman committed a costly error in each game, however, as Detroit pushed over six unearned runs in the doubleheader.

"They'll come out of it," Smith said of the White Sox' early tailspin. "They're a much better club than this. Everything's going against them now."

Of the Tigers' fast getaway, Smith said: "This club worked hard all spring and now realized that the early games are just as important as the September games. All I can hope is that we stay healthy."

Tony Oliva broke a 0-for-13 slump with a tie-breaking two-run homer in the fifth inning, leading the Twins past the Yankees, who had won three straight. Rod Carew laced four hits for the Twins and right-hander Dave Boswell picked up his second victory in three decisions with relief help from Al Worthington. Losing pitcher Fred Talbot homered for New York.

The Orioles shot down California with a seven-run explosion in the ninth inning. Dave Johnson's two-run homer capping the rally, Curt Blefary drove in the first two runs in the ninth, breaking a 4-4 deadlock. Rick Reichardt slammed a three-run homer for the Angels.

Sam McDowell pitched a five-hitter and struck out 10 Red Sox as the Indians snapped Boston's four-game winning streak. Vic Davalillo, Tony Horton and Larry Brown all stroked two-run singles for the Indians and Duke Sims hit his fourth homer of the year.

Rice Takes First Place in SWC Meet

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Rice claimed first place in seven of the 16 events here Saturday and won a quadrangular track meet with Texas A&M, Arkansas and Texas Christian University.

The Owls accumulated 64 points, while A&M finished with 53, Arkansas with 37 and TCU with 20.

Rice and Texas are co-favorites in the Southwest Conference meet, which comes up in two weeks.

Three Pac-8 records were broken. Conrad Gathier ran a 15.7 in the 110 relay, three-tenths of a second under the record set by Norman Price in 1950. Jerry Pate's 165-9 discus throw was almost two feet better than Bob Abars' record in 1958, and the Razorback relay team knocked a half second off its mile record of 3:41.0.

As Pate's Kelvin Korwin turned in the top individual performance, winning the discus with a heave of 169-4, which is the best in the conference this year.

January Is Winner at Las Vegas

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Don January breezed to victory in the $150,000 Tournament of Champions golf tournament and then discovered it wasn't so easy after all.

The current National PGA champ, who leads the touring pros into his native Texas home grounds at Dallas today, fashioned his second straight 69 Sunday, two strokes under par, for a 72-hole tournament course record of 276, eight under par.

But it wasn't until after he parred the last two holes that he learned charging Julius Boros had missed catching him by only one stroke and one roll of the ball with a sizzling final round 66 for 277.

"I didn't know what Moose was doing," January confessed later. "I was a little upset that I didn't know he was so close."

It could have been even closer — a tie or even defeat for January. On the final hole Boros faced a 45-foot chip for an eagle three which at that stage would have tied him with January playing two holes behind.

Jacobs Scores Victory at Grand Prix

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — Dick Jacobs of Waukegan, Ill., scored an easy victory Sunday in the feature race of the Grand Prix Grand Prix after the two favorites withdrew because of rain.

Bob Aylward and Jack Jinkie, both of Wichita, Kan., had finished one-two in the regional feature Saturday but both dropped out after a heavy rain, which started on the fourth lap of the 13-lap event, forcing the cars to cut their speeds almost in half.

Bill Fuller of Oakdale, La., driving a Merlyn Rebel Special, finished second to Jacobs' Elva Mk. 8 BMW. Fuller was followed by Mike Rahal of Glen Ellyn, Ill., in an Elva-Porsche. The Grand Prix was a Midwest Division event of the SCCA and counted for national championship points.

Harding Man Places Third

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Jim Crawford of Harding College at Searcy, Ark., challenged record miler Jim Ryan in the 1,500 meter event of the Kansas Relays Saturday, but managed only a third-place finish behind Tim Danielson, who was running unattached.

Crawford launched his challenge with 300 yards to go, but fell back and finished in 3:49.3. Danielson had 3:44.8.

Crawford's effort was the equivalent of a 4:06.3 mile.

Laver Strong Favorite in British Meet

BOURNEMOUTH, England (AP) — Promoter George MacCall's tennis pros appeared all set today to steam-roller their way to the top prizes in the world's first open tournament.

Rod Laver of Australia, back in the hunt for Britain's top titles after five years as a professional, was a strong favorite to win the British hard courts title, starting at Bournemouth's West Hunts Club.

Another Australian, Ken Rosewall, is seeded to meet Laver in next Saturday's final. Valerie Ziegenfuss, of San Diego, Calif., carried United States hopes by herself in the women's singles.

Virginia Wade, British Wightman Cupper, was top seed in the women's singles.

There is a first prize of $2,400 in the men's singles and $720 in the women's.

Sikes Collects $1,100 in Meet

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — R. H. Sikes of Springdale, Ark., collected $1,100 Sunday after shooting a final round 68 and finishing in a tie for eighth place in the $35,000 Azalea Open Golf Tournament.

Sikes had rounds of 68-73-67-68 for a 276 total. Steve Reid and Gary Player tied for first place at 271 but Reid won the $5,000 first prize in a playoff.

Yank Batboy 'Plays' It Cool

Batboy Elliot Ashley and Eddie Layton
Mickey Mantle plays second fiddle to organ

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Writer

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The batboy kneeling next to Mickey Mantle in the on-deck circle at Yankee Stadium is admittedly a wacko — but not of Mickey Mantle. The object of his homage is the stadium organist, Eddie Layton.

Elliot Ashley, 19, also is fond of baseball, and plays outfield for the Long Island University freshman team. But it is talk about the organ that lights up his eyes. Elliot plays the organ in a rock group called "Nobody's Generation."

It was interest in the organ that indirectly got him his job as Yankee batboy.

In 1965, Elliot's father happened to have Bob Fishel, Yankee vice president and public relations director, as a rider in his cab. The elder Ashley told Fishel that Elliot often attended Yankee games and observed the organist as closely as he did the players.

In a form reversal, Ashley told Fishel that Elliot's ambition was to be the organist at Yankee Stadium. Fishel arranged to have two tickets to the following game for the pair and also set up a meeting with Eddie Layton in the organist's booth.

"Mr. Layton was great," said Elliot. "I sat next to him the entire game. I was itching to play, but I couldn't. Union rules, you know."

The Ashley's drove Fishel home. On the way, Elliot asked how he could become a batboy. ("He wanted to find some way to get near the organ," said Ashley.)

Fishel told him to whom to write. Elliot was interviewed, got the job and began the 1966 season as a Yankee ball boy. The following spring, he was promoted to batboy. Whenever he had a chance, he would climb the steps of the stadium and talk with Layton and look longingly at the on the field and heard it. They told me they liked it."

Being a major league batboy gives a young fellow enviable opportunities. For example, the chance to meet the game's stars.

"There's one player I really want to talk to," said Elliot. "but I haven't had the courage yet. I'm mustering it up. The player is Denny McLain. He plays the organ, too."

No Favorite in Field of 17 for Derby

By BOB COOPER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A field of about 17, with no stand-out favorite, seemed likely today for the 94th running of the Kentucky Derby, just a dozen days from now.

Ten of the hopefuls, including those who passed preliminary exams in the Wood Memorial and California Derby, already are at Churchill Downs or are on their way here.

Ten more 3-year-olds are at nearby Keeneland, readying for Thursday's 1 1/4-mile Blue Grass stakes where about half are likely to show enough promise to merit a Derby start May 4.

Wood Memorial representatives almost sure to start in the Derby include the first three finishers — Dancer's Image, Iron Ruler and Verbalism — along with J. P. Mills' Salerno, who finished eighth.

League Comes To West Coast

ARIZONA ALUMNI—Sal Bando (left), Rick Monday (center) and Reggie Jackson played baseball for Arizona State University, and have since graduated to the Oakland A's. Bando and Monday were teammates on ASU's 1965 NCAA championship team. Jackson was a member of the freshman squad that season.

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Bob Kennedy laconically shifted the lump of tobacco in his cheek and pondered the virtues of being manager of the Oakland Athletics, a team which finished last in the American League last year by 29 1/2 games, using Kansas City as an alias.

When baseball started playing franchise leapfrog in 1953, by moving the Boston Braves to Milwaukee, the rejuvenation was instantaneous. The Braves jumped from seventh (in an eight-team league) to second place because a crop of young talent, featuring Eddie Mathews and soon to include Henry Aaron, was on the verge of maturation.

An analogy was suggested to Kennedy that the Oakland A's strongly resembled those early Braves in the muscular promise of their younger players.

"We got three," he nodded, "got a chance to make it." Making it, in baseball nowadays, means a kid won't disgrace himself by throwing behind the runner and, in the case of the dandified Athletics, forgetting to put on his white kangaroo shoes for the game after wearing somber black in batting practice. He will try to hit .250 and swear allegiance to the promotional stunts of Charles O. Finley, owner.

Who, pray, Bob, are the three who can "make it"?

"Well, (Rick) Monday and (Reggie) Jackson got a lot of natural ability. And there's (Sal) Bando."

He paused for 60 seconds. Sometimes it takes that long to remember who's playing for the A's.

"That's it," he pronounced.

The significance of the trio named was physically apparent. They were flexing their muscles around the batting cage. Sal Bando, a swarthy third baseman with the torso of a guy on the waterfront, smiled pleasantly and politely. His white teeth protruded slightly below dark Italian eyes. His forearms bulged. Reggie Jackson looked deceptively — from the hips down a lightweight, and the loose uniform concealed the depth of his chest. He moved with the springiness of a man on the high board. Rick Monday's blond hair peeked out from the side of his cap to suggest that he wasn't an intimate terms with any barber. The nose bobbed up. He was three inches taller than the others, at 6-3, but weighed the same (195 pounds), giving him a bit of a greyhound image, dressed in the canary yellow and green which the A's affect

Jackson and Monday are outfielders. All three of them represent the batting potential of the new Oakland team. They have another common thread. All three are products of the Arizona State at Tempe school of baseball knowledge, run by an obscure major league shortstop named Bob Winkles.

In the years from 1965 through 1967, 23 members of Arizona State varsity baseball teams signed professional contracts. Monday and Bando were in the 1965 crop, the leaders of a team which won the national collegiate championship. Monday was a sophomore, Bando a junior.

That was the year the major leagues decided to institute a draft of free agents, football style. The Athletics, choosing first, designated Monday as the most desirable prospect in the United States. That, and $100,000, induced Rick to desert the pursuit of education. Monday remembers signing his contract on a Tuesday. He was graduated to the Athletics last year after a summer and a half of advanced baseball schooling and batted .251. Rick's also a brilliant centerfielder.

Bando, chosen on a lower round, signed for $40,000. A Yankee scout told him he could have received $75,000 on the open market. What was Sal's reaction to the draft? "It was terrible," he said.

He got brief exposures to big league living in 1966 and last summer. The first time the Athletics came to Cleveland, his home town, he had to dig up 40 tickets for friends and relatives. Last year, in 47 games with the pro varsity, he hit .192. "I know," said Sal, "I can hit." He slugged more home runs than any major leaguer in spring training.

Jackson was a freshman when Rick and Sal were on the Arizona State team. His main gig was football, but after he hit 15 homers in the spring of his sophomore year, he went the baseball route, too, when the Athletics picked him first in the 1966 draft. Last summer, after being named Southern League Player of the Year at Birmingham, he batted .178 in 33 games with the A's. He has already hit two home runs into the centerfield bleachers, no man's land, at Yankee Stadium in this early season.

If all three develop as expected, manager Kennedy's appraisal of talent will be the most cautious since Joe DiMaggio (now an Oakland vice president and coach) stepped out of a San Francisco cab 35 years ago. He hurt his knee, and the Yankees were the only team in baseball that would take a chance on him.

Oswald: "It is remarkable how the presence of a part score can affect the bidding. South liked today's hand and wanted to be in game the moment his partner raised spades, but he wanted to be pushed there so that he would get doubled."

Jim: "Or maybe South was afraid that his partner didn't have much of a raise. Actually North's bid might be described as flying the flag against the 60 part score."

Oswald: "North did not have much of a raise, but if his ace and queen had been anywhere but in hearts, South would have had a cinch contract."

Jim: "South was a pretty resourceful player. He decided to start by trying for two heart tricks instead of settling for one, so he played dummy's queen of hearts. When East produced the king, South had no real play for his contract. In fact he rather expected to go down more than one trick."

Oswald: "South was Warren Slattery, an old Brooklyn friend of mine. Warren is a mighty resourceful player and he managed to make his contract by means of some adroit camouflage. He started by playing his king and queen of diamonds. Then he stopped and led a low spade."

Jim: "That certainly was the right spade to play. Did West take the bait?"

Oswald: "He took hook, line and sinker! He couldn't lead a diamond. He didn't want to lead a heart to dummy, so he played his ace of clubs."

Jim: "That gave South his contract because it did not matter whether East ruffed the next club or discarded. Warren was going to lose two trumps and one club."

Oswald: "West should have seen that he could afford the heart lead but he didn't."

Nixon Has 2nd Theme for Campaign

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is now beginning to develop his second major campaign theme—what he calls "the crisis of the federal budget."

He has called on President Johnson to cut the budget by $8 billion.

Nixon said in a statement in Cheyenne, "The United States is today hurtling down a path toward the worst economic crisis of the postwar era."

The former vice president conferred for 3 1/2 hours Sunday night with Wyoming Gov. Stan Hathaway and said afterward, "We talked about the crisis of the budget, the war in Vietnam, Dallas 2, Texas; 360 N. Mich. and all the other major national problems."

Nixon charged the Johnson administration with five years of "fiscal mismanagement."

British Party Split Over Racial Issue

By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer
LONDON (AP) — Britain's Conservative party was badly split today following a clash between two of its leaders over the racial question.

Edward Heath, the leader of the opposition party, fired off a rightwinging Enoch Powell from the party's shadow Cabinet, calling a speech by Powell Saturday "racist in tone and liable to exacerbate racial tensions."

Political writers considered Powell's speech a challenge to the more moderate Heath's leadership, forcing the party chief to take strong action or abdicate to the Tory right wing.

Powell was the member of the shadow Cabinet for defense and would have taken command of that ministry if the Conservatives ousted the Labor government. Reginald Maudling, the deputy party leader, took over Powell's defense duties while Sir Alec Douglas-Home assumed Powell's brief for commonwealth affairs.

Other right-wing Tories denounced Powell's firing. One, John Jennings, called it "a tragedy." Powell's speech and the party split also gave the Laborites valuable ammunition for the House of Commons debate Tuesday on the Labor government's controversial race relations bill.

The bill seeks to outlaw racial discrimination in housing, jobs and other fields. The Tories oppose it, claiming it will be unworkable. But they also say they oppose racial discrimination.

Powell in his speech said Britain should bar further colored immigrants and pay those now here to return to their native lands. The speech was peppered with such volatile remarks as "a match on gunpowder" and "rivers of blood will eventually flow."

Powell stuck by his speech, claiming it was in line with Conservative policy. He had no immediate comment on his dismissal.

There are now about one million colored immigrants in Britain, about two per cent of the population, and racial tension has increased in recent years.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Here is the manliness of manhood that a man has a good reason for what he does, and has a will in doing it. — A. Maclaren said it.

COMING AND GOING

Mrs. Ellen McColm has returned home from an extended stay in Chicago and Peoria, Illinois with her children.

She was accompanied home by her son, who has returned to Peoria.

UNGRADED CLASSES, LIKE IT USED TO BE

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Is the ungraded class really modern education?

Rolland Turnow, school board president in suburban Oregon, recalls something akin to that when he started school in 1935.

"It's the one-room school again," he said of ungraded classes, "where everyone progresses individually in individual subjects."

JOHNNIE GRAY AND BOB MATTOX

Johnnie Gray, staff photographer for the Arkansas Highway Department, showed how Arkansas is building toward the future with an ever-increasing expanse of modern highway construction, when he showed a film, "Your Highway Report, 1968," at the weekly meeting of the Hope Rotary Club last Friday at the Town and Country.

The eye-catching colored film illustrated the construction of roads and bridges in the interstate program and the parks and recreation facilities available in the state. Since "there is no end report, this factor in the highway program was also shown. Safety measures taken, the source and distribution of finances, and future needs of the highway department rounded out the filmed program.

Of special interest to the local club were scenes of highway construction near Perrytown, Hope, Fulton and Magnolia with emphasis on the I-30 section near Fulton. The program was arranged by Bob Mattox, who introduced the speaker.

Visiting Rotarians were Congressman John Paul Hammer, Schmidt of Harrison and Washington, D.C., and Al Potts of Staunton, Va. Other guests were Roel Gast of Amsterdam, The Netherlands, and Cecil Bittle, Jr. of Houma, La., and all were welcomed by Club President Clyde Fouse. He announced that Col. Ralph Scott, head of the Arkansas State Police Department, would be guest speaker April 26.

Arkansan Named by A-party

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Walter Carruth of Lexa (Phillips County) was elected chairman of the American Party of Arkansas here Saturday during a state convention attended by a total of some 350 delegates from all 75 Arkansas counties.

The convention was held as part of the attempt to qualify former Alabama Gov. George Wallace as a presidential candidate in Arkansas this November.

It also will permit candidates to file for state and local offices under the American Party banner.

Since there is nothing in Arkansas law to prevent one candidate from representing more than one party, it also means that Jim Johnson, the 1966 Democratic gubernatorial nominee, could seek the Democratic nomination again this year and run as a member of the American Party in November.

Delegates to the convention were elected by Wallace for President Clubs.

Johnson was the principal architect of the party's constitution, rules and declaration of principles, all of which will be filed with Secretary of State Kelly Bryant.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Mrs. H. L. Thompson of Holly Grove, vice chairman; E. L. Luttrell of Malvern, secretary; Mrs. W. D. Todd of North Little Rock, treasurer, and W. R. "Bob" Currie of Little Rock, sergeant-at-arms.

Luttrell resigned from the Arkansas Democratic State Committee at its last meeting.

AIRMAN BECOMES EAGLE

MANFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Bernard T. Park, 20, Manfield, worked for his military stripes and Boy Scout merit badges at the same time.

While serving in the U. S. Air Force at Fort Meade, the airman first class completed requirements for his Eagle award in Boy Scouts. He came home on leave to receive the Eagle award at a special Boy Scout Court of Honor.

Financing of Public TV Corp. Studied

By ROBERT A. HUNT
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Government and private officials are wrestling with the problem of formulating a long-range financing plan for the fledgling Public Broadcasting Corp.

Congress authorized the corporation last year in an effort to boost federal support for non-commercial radio and television.

Just barely off the ground, it won't be fully functional until the fiscal year beginning July 1.

An immediate concern is extension of the $9 million authorized last year to create the corporation, which the Johnson administration wants continued through the coming fiscal period.

The Senate already has approved this request for interim financing. The House is scheduled to take it up later this week.

But on the horizon rests the issue of finding a way to provide permanent federal funding for public broadcasting.

When William D. Carey, assistant Budget Bureau director, appeared before a House Commerce subcommittee last month he outlined three principal techniques which now appear to be available. They were:

—A tax on television and radio sets manufactured—essentially the same proposal advanced by the Carnegie Commission, which originally developed the concept of a public corporation. The public now spends an estimated $2 billion a year on TV sets.

—A new tax on gross revenues of commercial broadcasters, now totaling about $3 billion annually and rising.

—Some plan to make use of general tax revenues.

The corporation, which will be run by a 15-member board of directors, is forbidden from operating a network of its own. However, it can subsidize programming and help educational stations form a network for specific programs using existing means of transmission.

President Johnson has directed the Budget Bureau, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Treasury to work with the corporation's board and congressional committees in coming up with a permanent plan. But Carey said a preference hasn't been found yet for any of the three avenues he outlined—or a combination of them.

There also is a pending proposal by the Ford Foundation for a system of domestic communication satellites under which some amount of revenues would be made available to improve public broadcasting programming. And a presidential task force is looking into the broad field of telecommunications, including a review of use of domestic satellites.

In his presentation, Carey did raise some eyebrows by mentioning consultations with appropriate congressional units—an indication that tax questions could be directed to the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

But the House Commerce Committee wouldn't be expected to yield any of its jurisdictional domain over general authorizations in the communications field.

Private Clubs Offer Mixed Drink Bill

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The secretary-treasurer of the Arkansas Private Club Association said Sunday his organization will present Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller a bill Wednesday that would allow the sale or dispensing of mixed drinks in private clubs.

Emmett Miller and other members of the Association said they were skeptical about the Class 6 permits authorized by the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board which would allow dispensing of mixed drinks in private clubs.

Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell has been asked to rule whether the permit adopted by the ABC is legal.

Miller said that a former Missouri legislator was working on the bill. Missouri has an open bar law on a local option basis. Miller also urged his group to continue to fight for mixed drink legislation in Arkansas. He said Little Rock Police Chief R. E. Brians would raid any club that served mixed drinks regardless whether it had a Class 6 permit.

"They want to take care of the country clubs, the big clubs and leave us out," Miller said, "and we're not going to stand for it."

Car Plunges Into River, Couple Killed

CHEROKEE VILLAGE, Ark. (AP) — A Kansas couple, who had come to Cherokee Village to visit friends, drowned Saturday when their car plunged off a bridge into the South Fork River.

Eyewitnesses were quoted as saying that Mrs. Harlan Deavers of Sabeth, Kan., drove the right side of the vehicle off the bridge into two-foot deep water and was carried downstream by the water.

Mrs. Deavers' body was discovered Saturday about 250 yards from the bridge. Her husband's body was found Sunday morning about a half mile from the bridge. The car was found Sunday morning 50 yards from Mrs. Deavers' body. Both Deavers and his wife were about 75 years old.

Red River Navigation Moves Closer

An editorial in the Shreveport Times last Friday, April 19, quoted Senator Russell Long as saying that the U.S. Corps of Engineers will let contract before June 30 on the first leg of the Red River navigation channel — working upstream from the confluence of the Red with the Mississippi's existing 9-foot channel.

Navigation on Red River offers nothing directly to Hope, Texarkana, and Southwest Arkansas at the present time, for the current project runs only to Shreveport and possibly Dingerfield, Texas—but it does represent a beginning. And there has to be a beginning if we are to look for future extension of the channel to our old river port of Fulton.

To this writer the most significant development in the Times editorial was the emphasis the paper gave to the discarding of the old Overton riverside-canal proposal in favor of today's follow-the-river-as-is plan.

The Overton proposal would have left the river's course in many places, utilizing cut-off canals. But now the river will be developed solely on its natural course.

This spells out something that previously has agitated trade relations between Hope and Texarkana. Some of the Texarkana folks have been zealous in promoting the idea that if navigation ever were extended north of Shreveport, Fulton might be by-passed in favor of a direct canal route which would bring navigation to Texarkana's doorstep en route to the Denison dam. But today's Corps of Engineers plan kills that idea. Navigation would exist, Fulton would be the main port for both Hope and Texarkana—and if either city wished to bring navigation any closer it could do what Houston did . . . financing its own barge canal to the river, as Houston built a ship channel to the sea.

Construction for navigation on the Red is beginning, but it's up to all of us in Southwest Arkansas and East Texas to help on the congressional end. For we know that powerful economic forces are opposed to waterway development. I quote the following excerpt from the April 18 bulletin of the National Waterways Conference, Inc., Washington, D.C., received today:

"MoPac News, the monthly publication of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, doesn't mince any words in its March issue, 'We don't give a dam, lock or canal for water,' the newspaper states. 'If you stretch your imagination a little to envision our railroad system as the branches of a great tree, you might compare the waterway system to a parasitic vine wrapping itself around the tree.' The two-page article sharply attacks waterway development and makes an impassioned plea for enactment of waterway user charges."

Wallace in Texarkana Thursday

George Wallace of Alabama, candidate for president, will speak at the Texarkana airport about 2 p.m. Thursday, April 25, according to an announcement from Texarkana this morning.

Former Gov. Wallace is on tour in a private plane, and while his speech is tentatively scheduled for 2:30 the public is asked to be on hand by 2 o'clock in the event he arrives early—for he will begin speaking immediately on arrival.

Today's announcement came from Bill Thompson, member of the Texarkana Wallace-for-President Committee.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The American Federation of the State, County and Municipal Employees of the AFL-CIO has been asked by a majority of Little Rock's sanitation workers to represent them.

The board has not recognized unions as bargaining agents in the past. Little Rock firemen have been organized for 50 years but the board has declined to deal with the union.

Court Order Defied by Phone Group

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO Communications Workers defied back-to-work court orders today in two states in the fifth day of the nationwide telephone strike, and said the injunctions blocked chances for an early settlement.

"All hopes for a quick solution have faded," said CWA President Joseph A. Beirne, who denounced the court orders obtained by Southern Bell Telephone Co. in Alabama and Kentucky as "preposterous" and "anti-union."

Beirne said the injunctions indicated the Bell Telephone System, and its parent American Telephone and Telegraph Co., want "to go on fighting" the strike of nearly 200,000 union members in some 40 states, instead of settling the wage dispute at the bargaining table.

AT&T President Ben Gilmer reported meanwhile that telephone service in most areas was being maintained without undue trouble despite the first nationwide strike in 21 years.

"Management people who are filling in at the switchboard are gaining experience, and customer cooperation has been most gratifying," Gilmer said.

Some customers, however, found it strange to dial for an operator and hear a man's voice reply instead of the usual female "voice with a smile."

In addition to the union's angry reaction to the court injunctions, company reports of cables being cut and phone booths damaged, and union charges that company supervisors were driving trucks into pickets, further heated tempers in the strike.

Beirne called his 13-man union executive board into session Sunday to consider Gilmer's offer to explore a union proposal. But the meeting ended after eight hours "without any prospect for an immediate settlement," Beirne said.

No formal company-union talks are scheduled, he said. The injunctions order Bell System employees whose contracts have not expired to go back to work despite picket lines of their fellow union members—telephone installers employed around the nation by the Bell subsidiary, Western Electric Co.

Some 23,000 Western Electric telephone installers in about 40 states are on strike, in addition to Bell System operators, linemen, repairmen, clerks and other workers in 15 states, Western

Seat Belts Can Save Lives But Very Few Drivers Use Them

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.

Safety experts estimate that auto seat belts, now mandatory in all new cars, could save 8,000 lives a year. But a recent check showed that barely half the drivers use them on long trips, and only 38 per cent on local trips. In a single year the number who said they had belts but never wore them rose from 10 per cent to 17 per cent.

Agriculture started the human population explosion. Scientists believe that during the long period when man did not know how to till the earth and lived by hunting and foraging, there were only about seven million people in the entire world.

Since birds have been around for millions of years, why isn't the earth covered by their feathers? Because nature provided a microbe that breaks them down. But we now face the problem of having civilization inundated by old nylon stockings and discarded detergent containers. No microbe exists that can break down many modern plastics and artificial fibers.

Separation of Church, State Is a Top Issue of U.S. High Court

Only Nine Senators Have to Run

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court today upheld a Circuit Court ruling that only nine state senators must stand for re-election this year.

The ruling was on a suit filed by the Republican party which raised the question of how many senators had to stand for election this year.

Under a revision of the senatorial districts according to the U. S. Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote doctrine, 25 senators were elected in 1966, leaving nine as holdovers.

The state constitution requires the election of 18 senators in one year and 17 two years later. The GOP contended that senators should draw lots after an

Group Talks Over Problem of Litter

The Hope Retail Merchants Association asked City Sanitarian, Jewel May, to meet with them for a discussion of how the downtown area trash problem could be handled to prevent litter being scattered over the alleys and rear premises of the business houses.

Mr. May explained that the Sanitary Ordinance provides that all trash must be placed in some type of container that will prevent it being scattered, but a great many merchants do not handle their trash in compliance with the law.

He said that keeping the alleys clean did not present too much of a problem, but that vacant spaces behind the stores were the responsibility of the owner. He said, however, that city crews were sent occasionally to clean up the back of these premises.

The sanitary law further provides that business houses must keep their sidewalks clean and unobstructed and the premises clean of weeds and other growth.

The Retail Merchants Association asked Mr. May to send information to all business houses explaining the Sanitary law and asking their support in keeping the downtown area clean. He said that a letter would be sent to all the downtown businesses and that he would personally work with any businesses that needed further information or assistance on plans for storing their trash until it could be picked up. Trash in the downtown area is picked up nightly except Sunday.

New Clash in Korea, Four Killed

By K. C. HWANG
Associated Press Writer
SEOUL (AP) — Three North Koreans and one American were killed Sunday in the second major clash in eight days in the U.S. sector of the Korean front. Each side accused the other of starting the battle in which three Americans were wounded.

The U.N. Command demanded an investigation by a joint team of observers, as provided by the 1953 Korean armistice. The Communist side ignored a request for an observers' meeting today, a U.N. spokesman said.

The spokesman said a group of at least eight North Korean soldiers opened fire on a U.N. patrol in the 2nd U.S. Infantry Division area of the demilitarized zone.

The patrol returned the fire and intermittent shooting went on for two hours, the spokesman said. Three of the Communist soldiers who had crossed the military demarcation line were killed, but their bodies were apparently dragged back because they could not be found Monday, he added.

A North Korean broadcast said the American force was made up of "over 50 fully armed bandits" who slipped across the demilitarized zone and attacked a Communist guard post near Daidoksan.

The broadcast said "several armed bandits" were killed in the "fierce fire." It made no mention of North Korean casualties.

On Easter Sunday south of the Panmunjom armistice conference area, Communist ambush killed two American and two South Korean soldiers and wounded two other Americans. Another American was wounded Saturday while on patrol duty in the buffer zone, the U.N. Command said. Later Saturday, a U.N. observation team investigating the shooting was fired on.

W. Ave. B Job Is Hit by Letter

Editor The Star: Recently you had an article in your paper questioning a part of Interstate 30 up close to Arkadelphia, as to what was holding up the program, and the rumors you had heard.

It brings to mind something right here in Hope—rumors about a certain street that was torn up and not finished. I don't suppose I have to tell you I am talking about West Avenue B. There have been rumors that the city ran out of money, had lost its contract, and some said wasn't going to be finished.

I feel sorry for the people who live on Avenues C, and D and Briant Street. Those streets are gravel and the only decent streets that carry the traffic going and coming from the generator plant, G. & S., and the Gunter lumber mill. I live on Briant Street and work at the generator plant; therefore I know there are about 150 people working there and from 75 to 100 drive cars. That's not counting the people who live down Old 67 and who have to travel West Avenue B.

If West Avenue B isn't going to be completed soon, or completed at all, can't Avenue C and the streets I mentioned be paved or blacktopped?

Avenue B can't be blamed on the failure of the street bond issue. It was torn up before the bond issue was voted on.

Please see if you can round up some answers for me and a number of other people.

Hanoi Holding Out for Two Sites, Lashes the U.S. for Not Accepting

TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam charged Sunday that the United States, "instead of going 'any place,' has set two and then four conditions" for the preliminary talks to arrange a Vietnam peace conference.

Hanoi's Communist party newspaper Nhan Dan indicated the North Vietnamese still are holding out for the two sites which the United States rejects — Phnom Penh, Cambodia, or Warsaw, Poland. The Hanoi government has rejected 10 sites proposed by the United States.

Nhan Dan again accused President Johnson of going back on his assertion that U.S. envoys would go anywhere at any time in efforts to end the war.

Johnson asked Thursday for assurances that the conference site would be accessible to other governments involved in the war, that it have adequate and presumably secure communications, that it be open for news coverage and that it be a place where neither side would have a psychological or propaganda advantage.

The patrol returned the fire and intermittent shooting went on for two hours, the spokesman said. Three of the Communist soldiers who had crossed the military demarcation line were killed, but their bodies were apparently dragged back because they could not be found Monday, he added.

A North Korean broadcast said the American force was made up of "over 50 fully armed bandits" who slipped across the demilitarized zone and attacked a Communist guard post near Daidoksan.

Clifford made that assessment in a speech prepared for the annual membership meeting of the Associated Press.

It was his first public address since he became defense chief seven weeks ago.

Clifford said his assessment was based on results of a comprehensive review of American policies and programs in Vietnam, ordered by the President after the setbacks of the Communists' Tet offensive.

"The results were clear and the results were encouraging," Clifford declared. "They disclosed that Hanoi could not bend South Vietnam to its will by military force."

"We concluded that Americans will not need always to do more and more, but rather that the increased effectiveness of the South Vietnamese government and its fighting forces will now permit us to level off our effort—and in due time to begin the gradual process of reduction."

Enemy May Be Planning Big Attack

By EDWIN Q. WHITE
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — All South Vietnamese army units in Saigon and the surrounding 11 provinces were put on a 100 per cent alert today because of intelligence reports indicating an impending big attack on the capital, Vietnamese sources reported.

American officials did not appear to give much credence to the reports. An American military spokesman said U.S. troops were on the same alert they've been on since the Viet Cong's lunar new year offensive in February.

Vietnamese troops had been on a 50 per cent alert since the February offensive, with half of them allowed overnight passes. Now all troops are restricted to their bases.

The intelligence reports said the Communist attacks would be on the scale of those during the February offensive, when thousands of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops infiltrated into Saigon and attacked all over the city.

Officials reported Sunday that a North Vietnamese colonel had surrendered and turned over plans for another assault on Saigon by 10,000 enemy troops.

The colonel, the highest ranking defector to fall into allied hands, said the assault had been planned for today but some unknown circumstance had resulted in a delay.

Allied forces reported killing at least 135 enemy soldiers Sunday in six clashes within 40 miles of Saigon. Most were in areas where allied forces have

Vapor Lights Throughout City Planned

The City Electric Department is installing Mercury Vapor lighting throughout the City, changing out all incandescent fixtures.

The new Mercury Vapor fixtures provide nearly 3 times as much light as the old fixtures and use about the same amount of electric current. The new lighting system will make Hope one of the few towns in the State completely lighted by Mercury Vapor lighting. The downtown area and some of the highways were changed over several years ago.

Along with furnishing the residential section a much better lighting job, it will save the electric department many hours of labor now spent replacing burned out lamps. The life of a Mercury Vapor lamp is several years. They seldom burn out but are replaced when the light output falls to a low point. Lamps in the downtown section were recently changed out after over 4 years of service. At this point it was estimated that the light output had fallen about 40 per cent.

It will take about 450 neighborhood light fixtures to complete the job and the electric department has already installed 215.

Would Fire Rusk, Retire FBI Director

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy says Secretary of State Dean Rusk should be fired and says one acceptable replacement would be Mansfield.

The Democratic presidential candidate also said Sunday that Director J. Edgar Hoover controls the FBI as a "kind of fief" and should be retired.

Turning to Republican Presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon, McCarthy said it was the "old Nixon" who accused Democrats of dishonesty by promising massive and immediate programs to aid the poor.

"About the time you would like to think that Mr. Nixon has come around to speaking rather straight, you know, and using the language as he should," the Minnesota Democrat said, "he then goes back to words like 'dishonesty.'"

The reference was to Democratic claims in the past that Nixon makes unfair accusations. McCarthy was interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

Nixon Saturday had called promises of massive anti-poverty spending a "dishonest and cruel delusion" and said he would rather lose the election than join in making such promises.

Nixon urged President Johnson Sunday to immediately cut the federal budget by around $8 billion to ward off inflation which he said threatens Americans' savings and the international monetary system.

"The United States is today hurtling down a path toward the worst economic crisis of the post war era," the former vice president said in Cheyenne, Wyo.

Nixon is touring the mountain states and collecting Republican governors' views on national and state issues.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is quoted by Newsweek magazine, meanwhile, as saying Nixon will be harder to beat this year than in 1960 but that "if I get the nomination, I'll beat him."

Humphrey is expected to announce Saturday that he will seek the Democratic presidential nomination.

Theodore Sorensen, an adviser to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's Democratic presidential campaign, said Humphrey had offered the vice presidential spot on his ticket to "every southern governor" except Lester Maddox of Georgia.

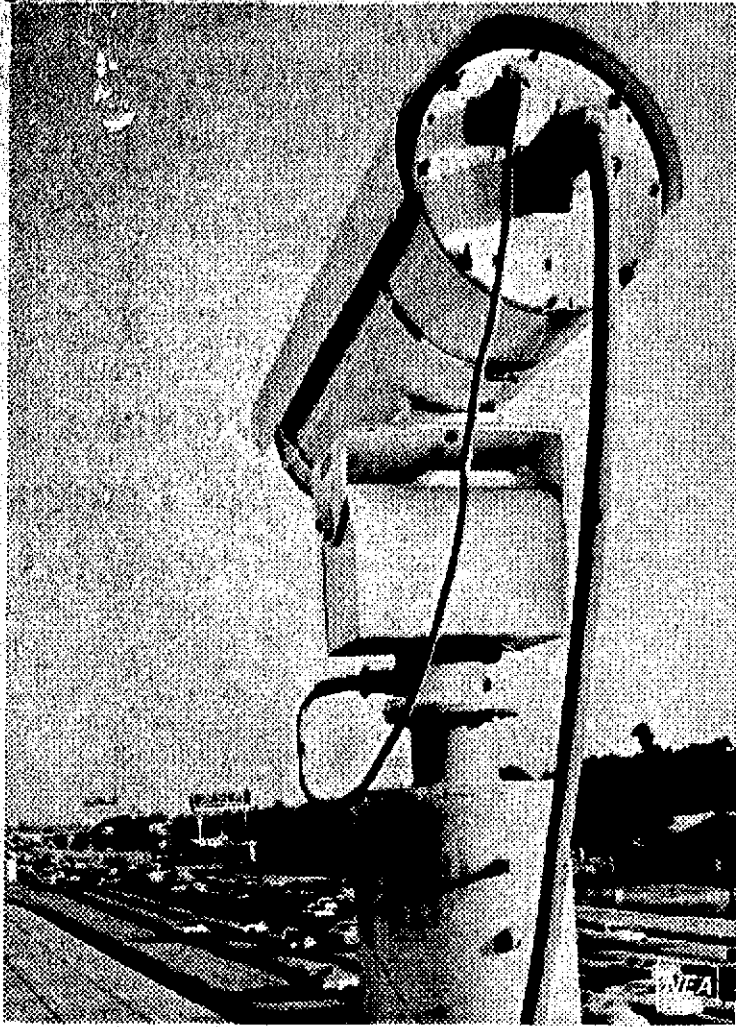

Texas Gov. John B. Connally, mentioned as a potential Humphrey running mate, had high praise on NBC's "Meet the Press" for Humphrey but said he hasn't decided whom to support for the presidential nomination.

McCarthy, again attacking Rusk's stand on the Vietnam war, said the secretary of state should step down. He said Senate Majority Leader Mansfield, D-Mont., for one, would be a suitable successor.

The Minnesota senator said Hoover, 73, has been FBI director too long.

More Bad Weather in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wide areas of Arkansas again were placed under tornado watches this morning by the U.S. Weather Bureau after one tornado was reported at Gilliam in northern Sevier County.

Police said they had no report of damage and apparently the twister did not touch down.

A group of school children reported hearing a giant roar but officers said no one there saw a funnel.

The watch is in effect from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. today. A few severe thunderstorms with large hail and locally damaging winds also were forecast.

The bureau said the greatest threat of tornadoes and severe thunderstorms is in an area along and 70 miles either side of a line from Mineral Wells, Tex., to Little Rock.

These counties were included in the watch: Franklin, Johnson, Logan, Polk, Pope, Scott, Sebastian, Pike, Sevier, Van Buren, Conway, Faulkner, Garland, Grant, Hot Spring, Perry, Pulaski, Saline, Drew, Jefferson, Lincoln, Bradley, Calhoun, Clark, Cleveland, Columbia, Dallas, Nevada, Ouachita and Union.

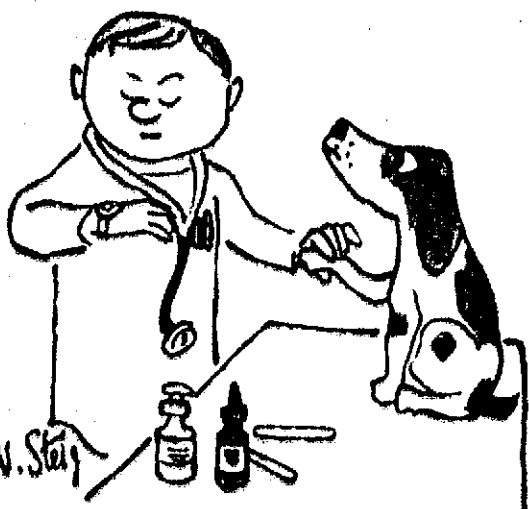

A low pressure system deepening over the western states today is continuing to dump cooler air against gulf currents, causing cool temperatures and abundant rain in Arkansas.

Rainfall around the state ranged up to .53 inches at El Dorado. All points in the state reported rain in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today. Low temperatures reported around the state this morning ranged from 54 degrees at Harrison to 62 at Texarkana.

Obituaries

CLEVELAND (AP) — Zygmunt Zakrzewski, 68, national president of the Alliance of Poles in America for 22 years, died Sunday. Zakrzewski joined the Polish alliance in 1931 and served as director and treasurer before becoming president.

NEW YORK (AP) — Rudolph Dirks, 91, German-born cartoonist and originator of the "Katz-enjammer Kids" comic strip, which is considered the oldest in the country, died Saturday. Dirks created the Katzenjammer brothers, Hans and Fritz, in 1897 for the Hearst newspapers. The comic strip, which his son, John, said he would continue, is currently syndicated to about 100 papers.

ROME (AP) — Former Queen Soraya of Afghanistan, wife of the late King Aman Ullah who abdicated in 1929 following a tribal uprising, died in her Rome exile residence Saturday. She was in her 60s. Her husband, who reigned over Afghanistan from 1901 to 1929, died in Zurich in April, 1960.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Martin M. Melcher, 52, third husband of actress Doris Day, who helped her to film stardom, died Saturday following a stroke. Melcher, married to Miss Day for 17 years, was an independent motion picture producer and owner of two music production firms. He produced several of his wife's pictures, including "Pillow Talk" and "The Thrill of It All."

TRIVOLI, Ill. (AP) — David L. Hughes, 38, general manager since last June of the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad, was killed Saturday in the crash of his light plane.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Commodore Robert S. Hale, associated with Adm. Hyman George Rickover in developing the nuclear submarine, died Friday of a brain tumor. He was in his 40s.

Court Ruling Voids Sale of Newspaper

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today ruled the Los Angeles Times must give up three San Bernardino newspapers it bought in 1964 for $15 million.

Last October Federal Judge Warren J. Ferguson of California decided the Times Mirror Company's purchase of the Sun Co., in San Bernardino violated the Clayton antitrust law.

The Times appealed raising several contentions. The court made no comment on these and said simply Ferguson's decision had been affirmed.

The terse ruling added only that Justice John M. Harlan voted to hear the appeal. However, four justices have to consent before such action is taken.

Greenwood Rebuilding Underway

GREENWOOD, Ark. (AP) — Greenwood businessmen and residents have begun to regroup and lay plans for rebuilding their city after a killer tornado struck Friday.

Thirteen persons were killed by the twister and 270 others injured.

Most of the rubble and debris in the downtown section has been bulldozed away.

A group of Greenwood businessmen met Sunday with the Western Arkansas Economic Development Association to discuss plans for rebuilding the downtown sections on an overall architectural plan.

Association Director Leon Hardin said he and Sebastian County Judge Ben Geren met Sunday with about 30 of the city's business leaders. Hardin said the businessmen wanted an over-all plan for the downtown area rather than have each merchant rebuild as he pleased. Geren, who is also president of the WAED, asked Hardin to move rapidly to provide necessary planning and coordinate plans with the various federal agencies that will provide money and low-interest, long-term loans. Representatives of the Small Business Administration were in Greenwood today.

Geren said the governor's office has been asked for federal disaster funds, but the governor's office said today no word has been received on the application yet.

All other city projects have been temporarily dropped in order to devote full time to rebuilding.

Geren said today that all businesses in town were closed today and that food is having to be brought into the city.

Geren said the Red Cross and Salvation Army has set up kitchens to feed the children.

COURT ORDER (From Page 1)

Electric manufacturing employees in Buffalo, N.Y., also have walked out.

Where Bell System contracts have not expired, such as in Alabama and Kentucky, many telephone workers are refusing to cross the picket lines of the Western Electric installers.

The union previously rejected company offers of a 7.5 per cent increase in wages, which now average $3.27 per hour for Western Electric telephone installers and $2.79 for Bell System workers. The company said the union had demanded increases of 10.5 per cent over 18 months.

The New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. offered a $1,000 reward for information on damage to about 10 telephone booths, including one riddled by bullets, and also said 62 cables have been slashed since the start of the strike.

The walkout began four days earlier in New Jersey, where members of the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers struck before the Communications Workers.

Union officials in New Jersey protested the firing of four workers accused by the company of misconduct.

apportionment to determine who must stand for re-election.

The high court disagreed with the GOP contention, saying that the drawing for lots should come on a reapportionment following a federal census every 10 years if a reapportionment is required.

The reapportionment that left the election of senators out of balance came under court order.

The high court said the constitutional provisions amount to a restriction upon the length of terms of office for which some senators are elected and that all senators are aware of it and would have no grounds to complain if their terms were limited to two years through lot drawing after a federal census reapportionment.

"But we do not think an additional restriction should be placed on their tenure in the absence of constitutional sanction," wrote Associate Justice Lyle Brown in the unanimous decision.

The ruling upheld that on Circuit Judge Warren E. Wood of Little Rock.

The high court said there is no occasion for a drawing of lots until at least after the 1970 federal census has been taken. "We would also point out that appellants (Republicans) seek a mandatory drawing for 26 senators whereas the constitution requires that 35 senators participate," the court said.

The nine senators who must stand for re-election this year are Dorothy Allen of Brinkley, James Lee Bearden of Leachville, Clarence E. Bell of Parkville, Russell Elrod of Siloam Springs, W. K. "Bill" Ingram of West Memphis, Guy H. "Mutt" Jones of Conway, Cecil M. McNeil of Reelfoot, Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff and Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff.
